The following table includes a selection of currency names and abbreviations maintained by Cloanto as part of its Currency World Monitor service. This is not the official table of ISO 4217 currency codes as licensed and implemented in Currency Server, which is published by ISO and which includes additional information and codes. Specifically, the following list does not include currencies which ceased to be legal tender, and it includes codes which are not part of ISO 4217. Currency Server uses a more complete list which also includes the full ISO 4217 data.

For additional and official information, please refer to the standards organizations listed at the end of this document.
